Commitment rather than Award

The image shows a 'Breastfeeding Friendly 2026 Certificate of Commitment 2026' from The Breastfeeding Network. The certificate is set against a background of a baby being breastfed. It includes a logo at the top left, a title at the top right, and a main title in the center. Below the title, there is a dotted line for a signature, followed by a statement of agreement. Then, there are fields for 'Name', 'Signed', 'Role in Premises', and 'Date'. A disclaimer follows, stating that the certificate is not an official endorsement. At the bottom, there is a call to action for breastfeeding support, a large phone number, and a small block of text providing details about The Breastfeeding Network and contact information.

Breastfeeding Friendly 2026

2026 Breastfeeding Friendly renewal

If you haven't already renewed your venue to the Breastfeeding Friendly Scheme - now is the time!

Complete the Online form here

Our Breastfeeding Friendly Scheme is free of charge for venues to join and is a way for you to show your commitment to welcoming breastfeeding in your venue, upskill your staff/volunteers and make a positive difference to mums, babies and families.

When you join or renew for 2026 you get:

- Welcome Information Pack
- Certificate of Commitment
- Venue Poster
- Exclusive access to a short online training course that covers the basics of being breastfeeding friendly
- Window Stickers available for venues to purchase

Our Breastfeeding Friendly Scheme aims to:

- Support families to feel confident breastfeeding out and about
- Be a way that communities and businesses can show they welcome and support breastfeeding
- Raise awareness about the benefits of and barriers to breastfeeding

Breastfeeding Support 24 hours a day, 7 days a week

Our National Breastfeeding Helpline (NBH) is here to support families with infant feeding support 24 hours per day. Our team have their own lived experience of feeding babies and have training in breastfeeding support. Families can call 0300 100 0212 or DM via Facebook or Instagram messenger.

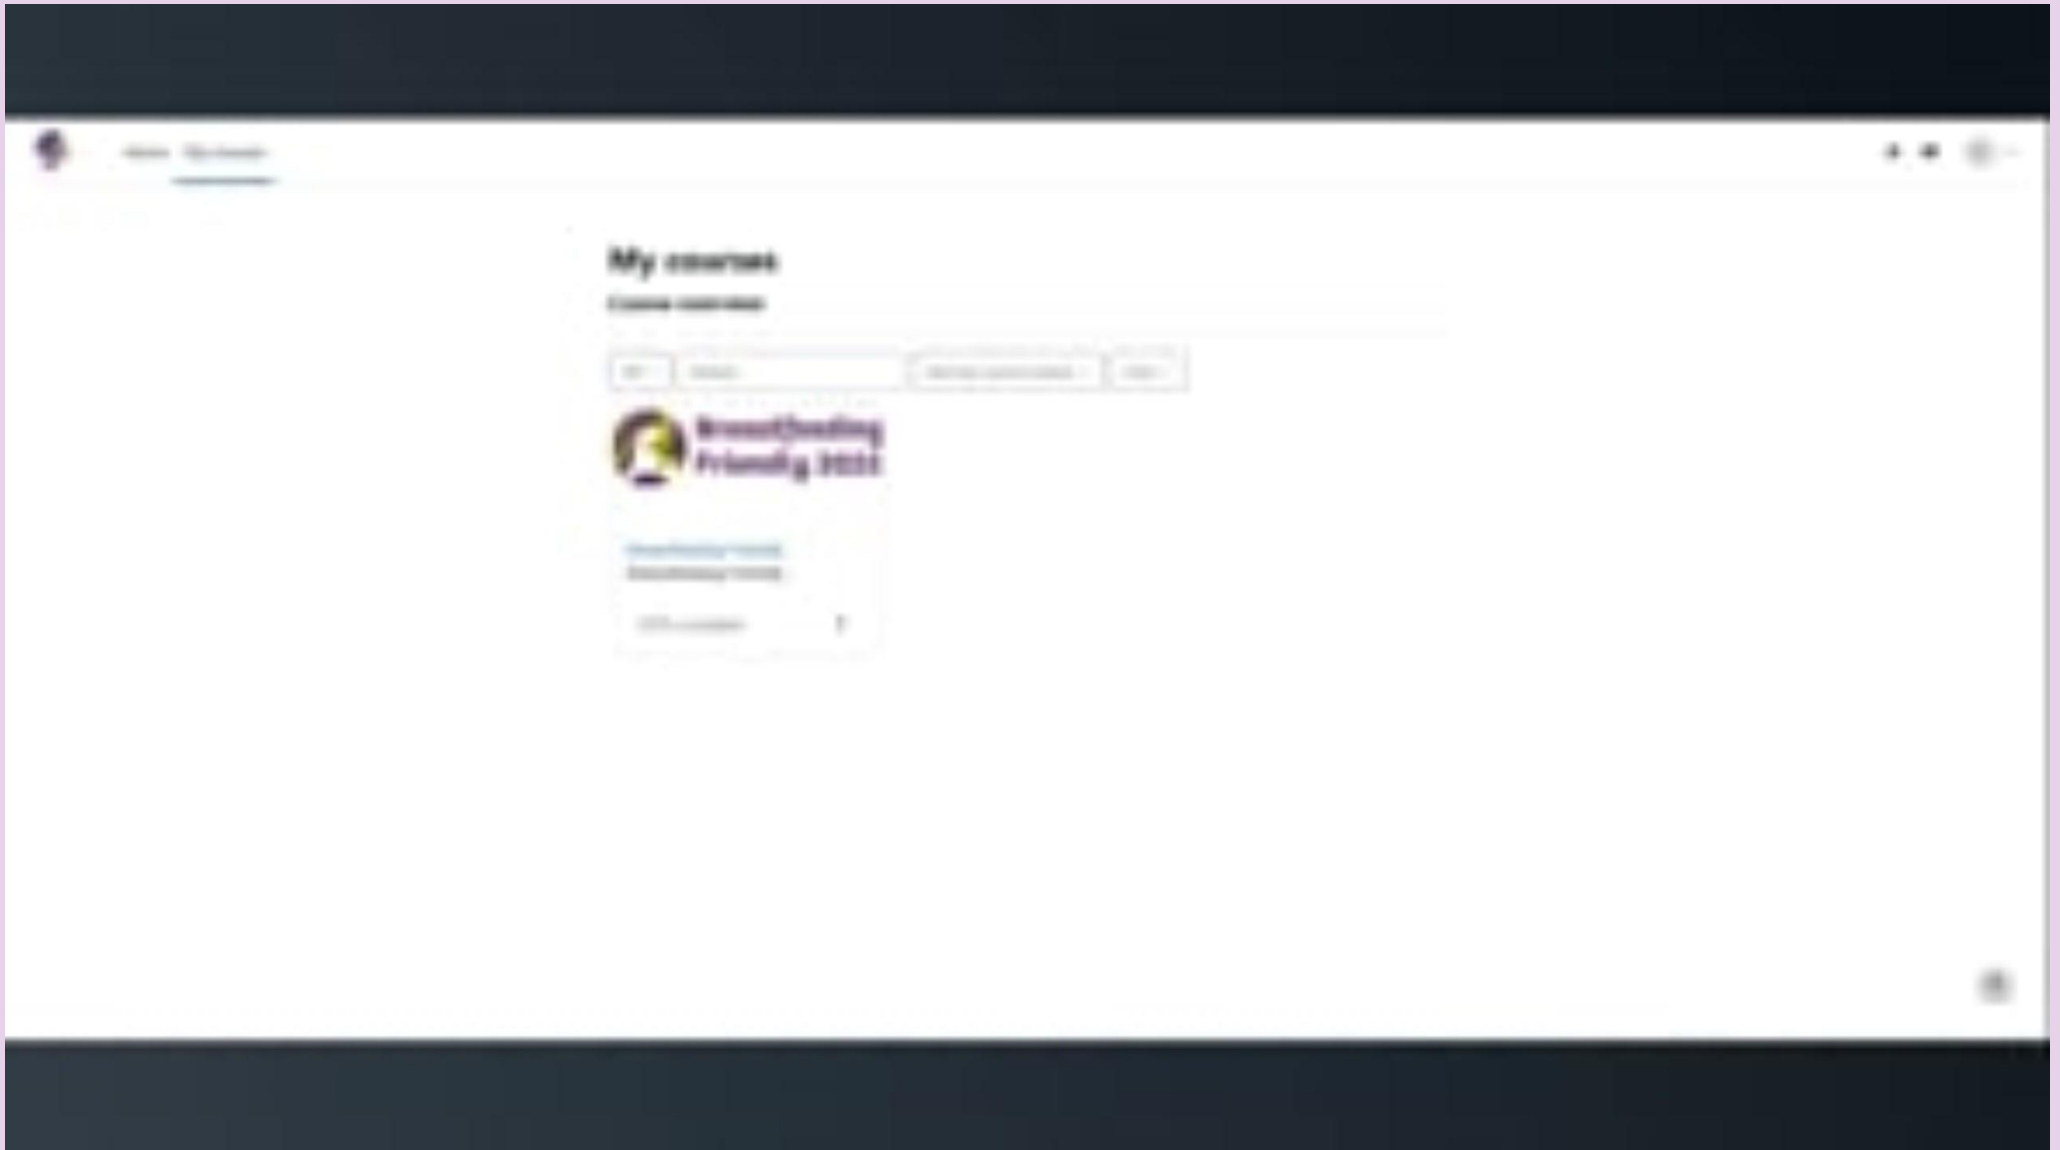

Can you help even more mums and families access much needed breastfeeding support by spreading the word about the National Breastfeeding Helpline in your venue? We can provide you with flyers and posters to display in your venue, as well as digital resources to share on TV screens, staff intranets, social media and websites, free of charge. Email breastfeedingfriendly@breastfeedingnetwork.org.uk to request yours.
